She teaches me arithmetic in such a taking way,
 When I come home, why, she subtracts from me my whole week's pay,
 She illustrates division when her mother calls, you see,
 For it's then that she divides it with her "whole Dam family,"

CHORUS.

Oh, how I love my teacher, she thinks I'm a schoolboy yet,
 If she don't mend her ways,
 And I don't get a raise,
 There'll be an apartment to let,
 Then I will give a problem,
 To my little precious Pearl,
 And the answer will be, just a big twenty three,
 Oh, how I love that girl.

4

I got my darling's life insured, and prayed that she would die,
 But nothing seemed to phase her, and the premiums were high,
 But one fine day the ambulance, returned her to our flat,
 And when they told me she was dead, I said well just for that,

CHORUS.

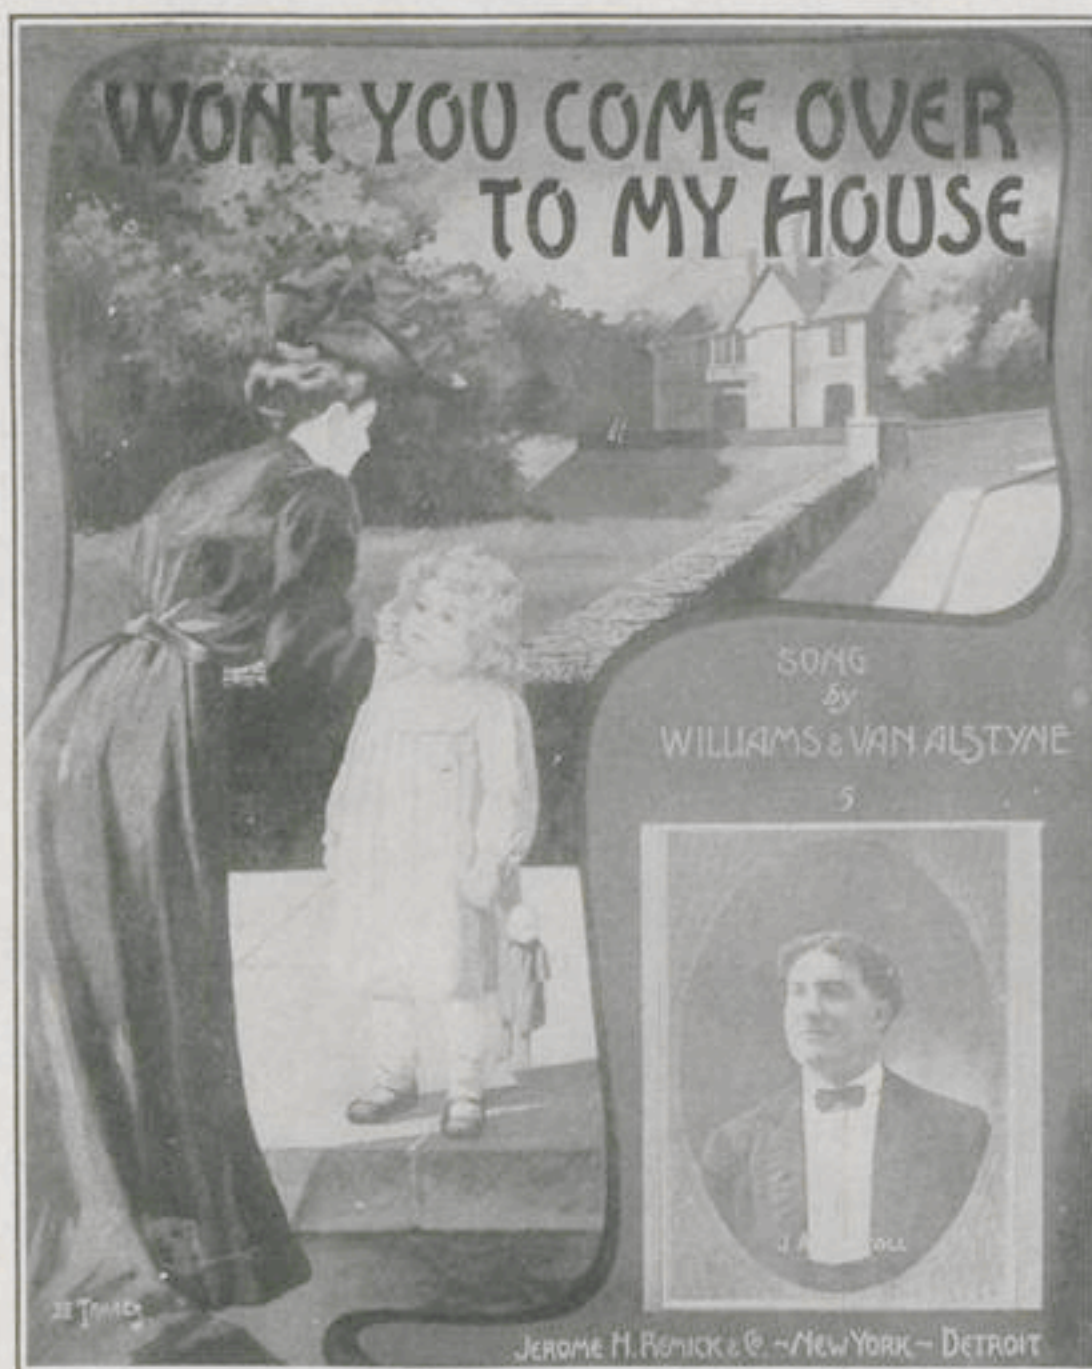

Oh, how I love my teacher, to think that she'd be so kind,
 As to stand on the track, and get hit in the back,
 By a street car that came from behind,
 But if she has gone to heaven,
 My little angel Pearl,
 There never can be, any heaven for me,
 Oh, how I love that girl.

5

I joined the army, went to war, all for my country's sake,
 But when I heard the bullets fly my knees began to quake,
 The fellow standing next to me, I noticed through the hail,
 Was the man who taught me how to sprint when we both went to Yale.

CHORUS.

Oh, how I loved my teacher, I ran for the nearest tree,
 In a glance I could see that there barely would be Just enough room behind it for me,
 Then something awful happened as the distance I tried to span,
 My old teacher Bill Rose beat me there by a nose,
 Oh, how I loved that man.
