EXTRA VERSES

3
Her father had him arrested once,
And they locked him up in jail;
He couldn't get to the garden gate
On account of lack of bail.
BUT Kate came down just to cheer him up,
And she stood outside the wall;
He heard her sing that little thing,
The sweetest song of all:

4
Her father said Billy's song was fierce,
To forget it hard he tried;
He said to Kate, "Don't you sing that song",
And the girl broke down and cried.
BUT one fine day, as her father worked
Fixing up a window pane,
Her heart beat fast, for Dad at last
Was singing this refrain:

5
At last the draft took him for the war,
He was sent across the sea;
He got so lonely for little Kate
That he called her constantly.
BUT in the twilight when all was still,
And the wind blew towards the shore,
She heard it plain this sweet refrain,
His little song once more:

THERE'S A LITTLE BLUE STAR IN THE WINDOW
 AND IT MEANS ALL THE WORLD TO ME.
 PAUL & ARMBRISTERS. Music by F. BERTH KLOCKHORN.

There are stars in the sky that shine down on us,
 With a promise of hope in their gleam,
 There are stars in the sea that shine on our ships,
 With a promise of peace in their gleam.

There are stars in the eyes of our boys,
 Who are far from home and dear,
 There are stars in the eyes of our girls,
 Who are far from home and dear.

There are stars in the eyes of our mothers,
 Who are far from home and dear,
 There are stars in the eyes of our fathers,
 Who are far from home and dear.
