Music by
ERNEST R. BALL

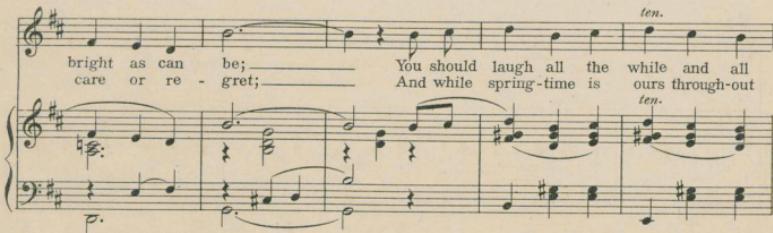

Valse moderato expressive

The sheet music consists of five staves of musical notation. The top staff is for the right hand of the piano, featuring a continuous pattern of eighth-note chords. The second staff is for the left hand of the piano, with bass notes and some eighth-note chords. The third staff is for the voice, starting with a dynamic of mf. The lyrics for this section are: "There's a tear in your eye, And I'm won-der-ing why, For it For your smile is a part, Of the love in your heart, And it". The fourth staff continues the piano left hand. The fifth staff concludes the vocal line with the lyrics: "nev-er should be there at all. With such pow'r in, your smile, Sure a makes e - ven sun-shine so bright. Like the lin - nets sweet song, Croon-ing". The piano right hand staff begins again on the sixth line. The final staff starts with a dynamic of p, followed by a tempo, and concludes with the lyrics: "stone you'd be - guile, So there's nev - er a tear-drop should fall. Larghetto

The musical score consists of four staves of music for voice and piano. The vocal part is in soprano range, and the piano part includes bass and harmonic support. The lyrics are integrated into the vocal line. The score includes dynamic markings like 'mf' (mezzo-forte), 'rit.' (ritardando), 'colla voce' (with voice), and 'dim.' (diminuendo). The piano part features sustained notes and chords.

Thou art the soul of a sum - mers day,
 Thou art the breath of the rose; But the sum - mer is fled and the rose is dead; Where are they gone, who knows, who knows?
 Thou art the blood of my heart of hearts. Thou art my soul's re -

A PRACTICAL PIANO COURSE FOR BEGINNERS

By EDUARD HOLST

THIS work starts the pupils at the very beginning and carries them by easy stages, step by step, to the early third grade music. The technical explanations are most easy to understand, and never does this course of instruction become tiresome to the student. At every opportunity the composer has inserted a recreative melody, rather than a tedious exercise.

Piano Exercises for Developing the Fingers

By LOUIS STILLMAN

TIN order to become an accomplished pianist it is necessary to have perfect control over the muscles of the fingers. The exercises contained in "CONCENTRATION AND TECHNIC" have been constructed mainly for that purpose, and if systematically practiced cannot help but bring the necessary result.

The work faithfully lives up to its title, for it has a mental and muscular influence on the mind and fingers which encourages confidence and ease in playing in any key and scale.

FINGER PRACTICE

IN THREE VOLUMES

THE product of practical experience and the only work with a laudable mission on the market, i. e., to give the muscles of each finger the necessary agility to properly execute all intricate passages with apparent ease.

The flattering testimonials received from pedagogic authorities prove that these books are destined to become thumb-marked volumes in every ambitious student's library. The exercises for the passing of the thumb are an acquisition indeed. Mechanically they represent the greatest excellence in engraving and printing, the very best material being used throughout.
