

To his friend
Edwin Green, Esq.

When I saw sweet Nellie home

Ballad

SUNG BY How George A. Heath

MR. D. S. WAMBOLD.

Composed and arranged by

JOHN FLETCHER.

An unauthorized and incorrect copy of this song has been published under my name but without my consent this is the ONLY CORRECT EDITION

Published by W. A. POND & CO. 347 Broadway

New York
G. DITSON & CO.

London
C. F. GUNDA

Pittsburgh
H. KLEBER & BRO.

Darling Mennie Lee -

Where the violets are blooming, smiling in the gentle breezes, and the Zephyrs sing sweet carols, as they flit among the trees; Where the merry songsters warble, from the morn till shades of night, there we laid our darling Mennie ever more from mortal sight.

Repeat, Where the merry songster warble, &c Death has robbed us of our treasure, and the angels have her now, where no ^{shades of} pain or or sorrow comes to cloud our darling's brow - O'er her grave the birds are singing in the sun light sweet & free, but they cannot bring our loved one back to us sweet Mennie Lee

WHEN I SAW SWEET NELLY HOME.

JOHN FLETCHER.

1. VER. In the sky the bright stars glittered On the grass the moonlight
 2. VER. When the au_tumn tinged the greenwood Turning all its leaves to 3. VER. White hairs min_gled with my tresses Furrows steal up_on my fell Hush'd the sound of day-light bustle Closed the pink-eyed pimper gold In the lawn by elders shaded I my love to Nelly brow But a love smile cheers and blesses Life's declining moments nell As a-down the moss-grown wood-path Where the cattle love to told As we stood together gazing On the star-bespangled now Ma-tron in the snow-ycr-chief Clo-ser to my bosom roam From an august evening party I was seeing Nelly home dome How I blessed the august evening When I saw sweet Nelly home come Tell me dost thou still re-member When I saw sweet Nelly home

ritard

Repeat Chorus last time PP

TENOR
In the sky the bright stars glittered On the grass the moonlight

ALTO
In the sky the bright stars glittered On the grass the moonlight

AIR
In the sky the bright stars glittered On the grass the moonlight

BASS
In the sky the bright stars glittered On the grass the moonlight

shone From an august eve-ning party I was see-ing Nelly home.

shone From an august eve-ning party I was see-ing Nelly home.

BLANK
PAGE