He's Getting Too Darn Big For A One-Horse Town

by IRVING BERLIN

Moderato

VOICE

Till ready.

Hi-ram Perkins
Hi-ram Perkins

sit-tin' by the fire,
bought a rail-road tick-et,

Talk - ing to his wife; _____
on the B. and O. _____

Hol - lered out, "Now
When they warned him,

look-a here, Ma - ri - a,
New York town was wick-ed,

A far - mer's life _____
He said "I know;"

was nev - er
But then my meant for our — son. — The boy is al-most twen-ty - one; — I've been boy can hold his own, — Of late he's act-in' too high-tone, — Why, he close-ly watch-ing him of late and some-thing's got-ta be done." — combs his hair three times a day; He ev-en us-es co-logne. —

CHORUS

He's get-ting too darn big for a small town, — He ought to p-f

be in New York; He has seen a cham-pagne cork, — He's ev-en eat - ing with his fork, ————— He knows at least a doz - en of

"troop - ers," — He's got a tie from Sie - gel and Coo - per's; And his name stamped in the in - side of his hat, Think - a that, think - a that!

Down there on Broad - way is the place where he be - longs; —————

He knows "Be - de - lia" and the oth - er la - test songs. — He's got a watch with an op - en crys - tal, And a walk - ing cane with a pis - tol, — He's get - ting too darn big for a one - horse town. — He's get - ting town. —
