Andante di Marcia.

It was at a rail-way sta-tion, Sol-diers In the camp just af-ter bat-tle, Swords and had as-sem-bled there, Mak-ing prep-a-ra-tions to march off to guns were laid a-side, For their hap-py fa-ces showed they'd won the war. _____ Man - y wives and Moth - ers gath - ered, Just to day. _____ Some were think - ing of their com - rades, Who had say one last "good bye;" With a fond embrace they hoped the fight would soon be died up - on the field, Oth - ers of the loved ones in their home so far a - o'er. Stand - ing in the crowd un - no - ticed, With no lov - ing ones to way, Round a sol - diers cot they - gath - ered, He'd been woun - ded in the cheer, A sol - dier boy looked on with tear dimmed eye, _____ For fray And man - y turned a - way to hi a tear _____ "Just when the mus - ic star - ted, With an old fa - mil - iar tune From raise my head" he murmured, "Tell the band to play once more That way down in his heart there came a sigh, old fa - mil - iar song I love so dear,

CHORUS.

When the band played "An - nie Lau - rie," How it thrilled him with thoughts of home And it brought back rec - o - lec - tions _____ Of a girl he left a - lone _____ And a Moth - er old who's wait - ing _____ Just to press him to her side, _____ For that dear old strain filled his heart with pain and made him wish he was home a - gain An - nie Lau - rie was to be a sol - diers bride. _____
